

THE SLEEPING WIFE.

Thou art on my bosom sleeping,
Gentle, trusting wife of mine;
And mine eyes are fondly keeping
Love's answ'ring watch o'er thine!

Hushed shall be my very breath,
While thy dear heart slumbereth.
Sleepest thou as slept in Eden,
Slept in beauty, holy Eve—
Ere her soul with grief was laden—
Ere her bosom could deceive:
Wife! may thou thus ever be;
Grief and guile unknown to thee.

Clasped upon thy gentle bosom,
Now thy white hands gently rest,
Even as leaves around the blossom
Of a slumbering rose are prest;
Blossom of my life thou art—
Thine, dear love, a rose-bud heart.

Round thy neck my arm is wreathing—
Softly to thy lips I bow;
And the perfume of thy breathing
Plays upon my bending brow.
Gentle wife! that fragrance breathes,
From the sweetness of thy soul.

FORGIVENESS.

The sandal-tree perfumes, when riven,
The axe that laid it low;
Let man who hopes to be forgiven,
Forgive and bless his foe.

The rose its fragrance, to the foot,
While crushing it, doth yield;
Oh, here how simply beautiful,
Forgiveness is revealed.

The Women of the Revolution.

BY MRS. ELLET.

Early in the war, the inhabitants on the frontier of Burke's county, North Carolina, being apprehensive of an attack by the Indians, it was determined to seek protection in a fort, in a more dense populated neighborhood in an interior settlement. A party of soldiers were sent to protect them on their retreat. The families assembled, the line of march was taken towards the place of destination, and they proceeded some miles unmolested—the soldiers marching in a hollow square with the refugee families in the middle. The Indians who had watched the movement, laid a plan for their destruction. The road to be travelled lay through a dense forest in the fork of a river where the Indians concealed themselves, and waited till the travellers were on the desired spot. Suddenly the war whoop sounded in front and on either side; and a large body of painted warriors rushed in, filling the gap by which the whites had entered. An appalling crash of firearms followed. The soldiers, however, were prepared; such as chanced to be near the trees darted behind them and began to ply the deadly rifle; the others prostrated themselves upon the earth among the tall grass, and crawled to trees. The families screened themselves as best they could.

The onset was long and fiercely urged; over and anon, amid the din and smoke, the warriors would rush, tomahawk in hand, towards the centre; but they were repulsed by the cool intrepidity of the backwoods riflemen. Still they fought on, determined on the destruction of the victims who offered such desperate resistance. All at once an appalling sound greeted the ears of the women and children in the centre; it was a cry from their defenders—a cry for powder!

"Our powder is giving out," they exclaimed; "have you any? Bring us some or we can fight no longer."

A woman of the party had a good supply. She spread her apron on the ground, poured the powder in it, and going round to each soldier as they stood behind the trees, bade each who needed powder put down his hat and poured a quantity into it. Thus she went round the line of defence, till her whole stock, and all she could obtain from others, was distributed. At last the savages gave way, and pressed by their foes were driven off the ground.

The victorious whites returned to those for whose safety they had ventured into the wilderness. Inquiries were made as to who had been killed, and one running up, cried,

"Where is the woman that gave us the powder? I want to see her."

"Yes!—yes!—let us see her!" responded another and another; "without her we should all have been lost." The soldiers ran about among the women and children looking for her and making inquiries. Directly came in others from the pursuit, one of whom observing the commotion, asked the cause and was told.

"You are looking in the wrong place," he replied.

"Is she killed? Ah! we are afraid of that!" exclaimed many voices.

"Not when I saw her," answered the soldier; "When the Indians ran off; she was on her knees in prayer at the foot of yonder tree, and there I left her."

There was a simultaneous rush to the tree—and there to the great joy they found the woman safe, and still on her knees in prayer. Thinking not of herself, she received the applause without manifesting any other feeling than gratitude to Heaven for their great deliverance.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

The Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and all Diseases of the Lungs.

OLD VIRGINIA AGAIN.

Albany, N. Y., March 21st, 1847.

Mr. Seth W. Fowler—Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in stating to you my experience in the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I own a very valuable negro girl, who was attacked with a difficulty of the lungs, which brought her in appearance to the brink of the grave. I consulted some of our best Physicians, who pronounced her case incurable, or that they could do no more for her. I tried many remedies but none did her any good. I saw some account of Wistar's Balsam, and thought I would try it, but had little faith in it. I procured a bottle, which was administered according to directions, and saw she began to mend; and before the first bottle was gone she was up. I procured a second and she took that, and now she is I think, cured, or nearly so. She attends to her daily labor, and I hear no complaint from her.

R. L. JEFFERSON.

Consumptive Patients!—Will please read the following note from the Harrison Gazette—The incredulous are invited to read the following note from Rev. Mr. Coldron, whose character for truth and veracity is above suspicion, and have their doubts dispelled as to the superiority of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, over all other remedies now before the public of the same character:

Corydon, Ind., Jan. 28, 1848.

It is no less a duty than a pleasure to state, for the benefit of the afflicted, that I consider Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, a great blessing, to the human race. Having tried it in a case of severe affliction of the lungs, I unhesitatingly recommend it to those similarly afflicted, as the best remedy I have ever tried, and one which cured me when physicians said I must die, and when I thought myself that my time to depart was near at hand.

WM. COLDIRON.

CAUTION TO ALL.—The genuine Wistar's Balsam is enclosed in a fine white seal engraved wrapper, with the names of Henry Wistar, M. D. and Sanford & Park thereon. Without both these signatures, it is positively counterfeit. Do not touch it.

Orders for the true medicine may be addressed to H. BLAKESLEY & Co., South-west corner Third and Chestnut streets, St. Louis. It is sold also by Clemen's Indian Tonic.

Infallible Cure for CHILLS, or AGUE and FEVER, and a sure remedy in BILIOUS REMITTENT, and other FEVERS.

THE INVALUABLE MEDICINE IS PURELY VEGETABLE.

THE unexampled success of this truly unrivalled Tonic, in curing in a few hours, where all other remedies have failed, and that too, in cases from six months to ten years standing—warrants the assertion, that if taking according to directions, it is infallible. A long list of certificates in proof of its infallibility might be added, but those upon the wrapper are deemed sufficient. Try it, and be convinced that it is the most pleasant, most certain, and the very BEST remedy ever offered to the public for putting a speedy termination to the Chills or Ague and Fever.

From the great popularity of this medicine, many imitations, professing to be CLEMEN'S INDIAN TONIC, are abroad. Therefore, be sure to ask for that prepared by GEO. W. HOUSE, Nashville, Tennessee, who is sole proprietor.

CERTIFICATES.

Nashville, August 18, 1843.

Mr. Geo. W. House: Dear Sir:—I had Chills and Fevers for twelve months; nine months of the time, without being able to check it, with all the aid I could procure from Physicians and the various Tonic Fever and Ague mixtures sold by the Drug stores. In April last I saw your advertisement of Clemen's Indian Tonic, as an infallible cure. I made no delay in calling upon you, and by using said Tonic, I found immediate relief, and a permanent cure. A friend of mine tried it about the same time, with the same happy result. Yours, respectfully,

C. L. GLASSGOW.

From the Clarksville Chronicle, Oct. 21, 1843.

Dr. T. D. Scott: Dear Sir:—We have used Clemen's Indian Tonic in many cases of Ague and Fever, and we find it, in every particular, what it is commended to be in your advertisement. We have heretofore used most of the popular remedies in use for Fever and Ague, and we unhesitatingly recommend Clemen's Tonic to the confidence of the public, from our personal experience and observation, as a safe, certain, and prompt cure for the Ague and Fever, in any form or stage of the disease. Yours, &c.

P. PEACHER.

JAMES J. PRITCHETT,

LEVI COLEMAN.

Extract of a letter from the Rev. F. A. OWEN of Memphis, dated Nov. 16, 1843.

My Dear Sir:—I have tried Clemen's Indian Tonic in six different cases, and find it efficacious in a very high degree. It arrested the chill in every instance, and yet there has been no return. I cheerfully give this testimony, that others may be induced to use a remedy both safe and efficacious in curing chills and fever.

Yours, very truly,

F. A. OWEN.

Nashville, June 3rd, 1844.

Mr. Geo. W. House: Dear Sir:—I shall make no apology in presenting the following remarkable case: A youth of about fifteen years old, living with me, had the Fever and Ague for ten years, without finding a cure; and I can assure you every means were used to that effect. In December last I tried a bottle of CLEMEN'S INDIAN TONIC, which arrested the disease at once, and am happy to state, he has not had a chill or a ague since. You should lose no time in giving this Tonic an extensive circulation—it will prove a welcome friend and a great blessing to the afflicted.

Yours, truly,

JOHN H. DAVIS.

The above case is known to me, and is strictly true.

Monthly Bulletin No. 9.

THE position of the

Greenberg Company in its relation to the health of the community is now fully established; and the admirable series of Greenberg Medicines are everywhere taking the lead of all others.

In numerous portions of the country the Medical Faculty adopt these medicines in their practice, satisfied, from ample tests, that by their use they can more certainly combat DISEASE, IN ALL ITS FORMS. And not only do Physicians sanction and encourage their use, but the CLERGY, of every denomination, attest their wonderful efficacy; and in numerous ways recommend them to the people of their charge. The LEGAL PROFESSION testify to the same thing, in short, the public at large hail the introduction of these medicines as a public blessing.

There are over TEN THOUSAND AGENCIES of the Company in the United States, which are not only profitable to the agents, but of vast benefit to the inhabitants. There should not be a single town, village, or hamlet, without its Greenberg Depot; and if this Bulletin is read where there is no agency, application should be made for one immediately.

Certificates, almost without number, are on file at the office of the Company, testifying to cures of the most astonishing kind; many of which have been duly examined by the following distinguished gentlemen: Rev. N. Bangs, D. D., Francis Hall Esq., Ex-Mayor Brady, all of New York.

The power of the Greenberg Medicines over all bilious complaints, no matter what their form or severity, is a matter of profound astonishment. Let all, therefore, who are thus afflicted, and who would cleanse the system, resort at once to the celebrated GRAEFENBERG VEGETABLE PILLS AND HEALTH BITTERS. At all events let them call at some one of the agents and get a pamphlet gratis, which will fully explain the whole matter.

The General Agent for Missouri, and South part of Illinois, is E. K. WOODWARD, St. Louis, to whom applications for agencies may be addressed.

EDWARD BARTON, Secretary.
